Permission Request for Illustrations and Cover Art

Dear Norm,

I am writing to request permission to reproduce the following image from your collection, and to request a photographic print/color transparency of it from which I can produce the image for my forthcoming book, How to Find a Habitable Planet, to be published by Princeton University Press, a non-profit scholarly publisher.

Title of image: rRNA tree

Artist:

Year: 1990?

My book, which is tentatively scheduled for publication in November, 2009, will be approximately 200 pages, and has a print run of 10,000 and price of $20. The image that I wish to reprint will appear within the book as a full page/half-page/quarter-page image. It may also be required for advertising purposes.

Please note that this is a work of scholarship with a limited audience. To achieve broad dissemination of this work to scholars, we intend to use digital media in addition to print in English. With that in mind, I request a non-exclusive license for the Press as follows:

1. Territory: Worldwide.
2. Language(s): English
3. Media: Print; media for people with reading-disabilities; and any other print or digital medium in which the Press may decide to issue or license others to issue the book with your material.
4. Revisions: The forthcoming editions and all revised editions of the book.
5. Assignees: Assignable, but only as part of assignment of the book as a whole.

I will acknowledge the source of your material in accordance with scholarly norms. If you require any particular form of acknowledgment, please let me know.

In setting a fee for the permission I request, please bear in mind the scholarly nature of this project and the fact that the Press is a not-for-profit publisher. I would be truly grateful if you would waive the fee altogether.

Thank you for your consideration of this request. A duplicate copy of this letter is enclosed for your convenience.

Sincerely,

James F. Kasting
